

Re-Ghoster Extended

Electroacoustic quintet

"The mistakes of the past are being meticulously archived, and the bombastic successes to come might not even have existed."

Re-Ghoster Extended is the electroacoustic self-digestion of one of the most bizarrely brilliant improvisers ensemble on the international scene. The group re-broadcasts the future program from a radio station whose frequency has been long forgotten (if it ever existed).

Jerome Noetinger (Tape recorder Revox) gives birth via his reel-reel machine to the hijacked cabals of Nate Wooley (acoustic and amplified trumpet), Fritz Welch (voice and electronics), Nicolas Field (drums and electronics) and Thomas Florin (piano and electronics).

A whispered hum, echoing possible futures, an implausible sensory cloning is on air from within the present.
